Smith's Tonic Syrup

FEVER and AGUE

Or CHILLS and FEVER,

AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPEEDY and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of KENT'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient. Use no other.

GERONIMO'S CAPTURE.

Gen. Miles's Orders Countermanded by the Department.

THE CAPTIVES AGAIN IN PRISON

Nature of the Terms of Surrender—The Probable Fate of the Murderers—Their Trial by Military Commission Advised

PRESIDIO OF SAN FRANCISCO, Sept 10.—[illegible] dispatches received from Arizona say there is an erroneous impression regarding the Indian prisoners of war. They surrendered with the understanding that they would be sent out of the country. Three men and three women crawled out of Capt Lawton's camp in the dark and have not yet been recaptured. Orders were sent to Gen Miles September 8 to hold Geronimo and other Indian prisoners at Fort Bowie under guard, which orders he seems to have disobeyed. The war department has disapproved of the action of Gen Miles and directed Gen Stanley to take charge of Geronimo, Natchez and other hostile [illegible] on their arrival at San Antonio and [illegible] them as prisoners at San Antonio barracks.

THE FATE OF GERONIMO

WASHINGTON, Sept 10.—Gen Drum, acting secretary of war, has given instructions that Geronimo, Natchez and the other hostiles surrendered with him be stopped at San Antonio and kept imprisoned there until a determination is reached as to what course of procedure can be undertaken against them. It is officially known that the surrender was not made without conditions, but what the conditions were beyond an agreement that they should not be surrendered for trial in Arizona has not yet been reported. It was in compliance with this condition that Geronimo was started with the hostiles for Florida. A determination of the course of procedure will probably be made by the president, but not until the terms of surrender and all the attendant circumstances shall be officially known. With the present knowledge it seems probable that the offenders can neither be tried by military court martial nor by civil authority, but that they may be tried as the Modocs were, by a military commission. This is a tribunal for the institution of which there are many well recognized precedents in our history, but it is one which has yet no recognition in statutory law. The atrocities of these prisoners, terrible as they were, are not thought to be such as would bring them within the jurisdiction of a court martial, which is very limited, nor would the civil courts in the absence of witnesses meet the requirements of the case, although the guilt is notorious. Under the circumstances a military commission, which seems to be intermediate between a court martial and a tribunal of Judge Lynch and which is recognized by leading publicists as a necessity under certain circumstances, is perhaps the only court by which justice could be meted out to these murderers. It would of course be composed of military officers and its proceedings be similar in character to those of a court martial. Little doubt is entertained by those who know the character of Apaches that there will be found among them a number who will readily betray Geronimo and the other leaders to save their own necks.

GERONIMO SHOULD BE HANGED

WASHINGTON, Sept 10.—The Army and Navy Register to-morrow will say: If public opinion in and out of the army has weight in deciding the fate of Geronimo and his murderous band they will be tried by a military commission, speedily convicted and executed without delay. There is precedent for such treatment of them, if one is needed, in the case of the trial by a military commission of Sioux after the Minnesota massacres in 186[illegible]. Five hundred of the prisoners were then put on trial, three hundred of whom were found guilty of murder and thirty-eight were hanged. Every one of the band was a prisoner of war at the time of his escape from San Carlos reservation. They had been placed there by Gen Crook and were given the liberty of the reservation on condition of not leaving it. They broke this promise and used their privileges to escape in order again to take the warpath. They are paroled prisoners taken red handed in acts of war and should suffer the punishment adjudged by the law of war to such acts of treachery.

FIGHTING THE LAGER BEER SALOONS

NEW YORK, Sept 10.—Editor Bowen says in this week's Independent: The liquor question will have to be recognized by manufacturers of party platforms and there must be no hedging about it. The sentiment that is enforcing this demand, the editor says, is already strong enough to wreck hopelessly the republican party simply by withdrawing from it. The revolt has already begun. If in some of the states it has assumed formidable proportions it is because republican politicians in those states have insisted upon ignoring or trifling with the saloon question. Those of them that are devising schemes to cheat the temperance element may deceive themselves by imagining they are very sly, but they cannot disguise their work.

The Independent goes even further and would excommunicate even from the church every man who sells beer. It says: "Shut up the lager beer saloons and you have done three-fourths of what is necessary to purify the politics of the country. The lager beer saloon must be abolished. It should have no quarter. A man who sells lager beer ought to be shut out of church and a man who makes it ought to be ostracised from decent society. They are foes to God and their country."

Republican managers at the Union League club assert that if Bowen goes on in this way he will ruin the party in this city.

RAINS CAUSE WALLS TO FALL

CHARLESTON, Sept 10.—The night passed quietly. There were no shocks in the city and with the appearance of the sun this morning there was renewed signs of activity in the work of removing the debris and an increased disposition on the part of the people to return to their houses. The mayor has sent a telegram expressing his profound thankfulness for the gift of $5,000 by W. W. Corcoran of Washington. The rains of yesterday have just begun to affect the shattered walls, several of which fell to-day.

Three slight shocks were felt in Summerville yesterday. The relief committees are at work distributing both provisions and money and their chief concern is to prevent the falling of relief to unworthy persons. Two hundred and ninety tents were received to-day from the government of New Jersey and [illegible] tents have also been shipped from Ohio.

WASHINGTON, Sept 10.—Supervising Architect Bell has granted a request of the mayor of Charleston that Inspector [illegible] be permitted to remain another week in Charleston to assist in the work of examining into the condition of damaged buildings.

OFF FOR THE NORTH POLE.

NEW YORK, Sept 10.—Col Gilder and his companion Griffith started for the North pole last night. They will take the steamer Selkirk and proceed to Norway house and from that point they will ascend the Nelson river and proceed to York Factory. The outfit which the colonel takes with him weighs a ton and a half and consists of hardtack, pemmican and other food, guns, rifles, revolvers and ammunition, scientific instruments and hand organs and baubles for the natives. He also takes two sleds sixteen feet long and four feet wide. After leaving York Factory Col Gilder will take as little as possible with him because of the difficulty of carrying it along. He relies for sustenance mainly upon game to be secured along his route.

WALKER BLAINE TALKS

NEW YORK, Sept 10.—Walker Blaine, son of James G Blaine, is in town. He said to your reporter: "I have just come from Bar Harbor and feel reasonably confident the republicans will carry Maine by 8,000 to 10,000 majority. Before leaving I had a conversation with Jesse P Manly, chairman of the republican state convention. He is pretty much of the same opinion. I confess the prohibition vote, while it is not seriously feared, is somewhat uncertain and may take away from our majority more than we expect. The democrats are adopting the policy of silence. They have not made speeches. It is presumed that they rely upon the prohibition vote to assist them. Father is sanguine as to a majority for the republican ticket."

CELEBRATED AT READING

READING, Pa., Sept 10.—To-day was the 100th anniversary of the incorporation of Reading into a borough [illegible] and the occasion was celebrated with a banquet on Eyring hill near here given under the auspices of the Klapperthal club, a social organization which has also been in existence [illegible] years and is probably the oldest social club [illegible]. The festivities were participated in by about seventy gentlemen. Among the distinguished guests were ex-Senator Simon Cameron, Justice Strong of the United States supreme court and ex-Gov Hartranft.

NEW YORK, Sept 10.—At a meeting of the immigration commission to-day a letter was read from Lawyer Leonard in regard to Mormon elders tendering bonds of indemnity of well known and thoroughly responsible men for the Mormon immigrants still detained at Ward's Island. The offer was declined. It was finally decided to send the Mormons back to Europe.

THE ACTRESS VICTORIA SCHILLING

NEW YORK, Sept 10.—It is believed that Victoria Morosini Schilling sailed yesterday afternoon for Liverpool on the steamer Germania under the name of Simmons. Morosini ordered a bouquet delivered to Mrs Simmons on the steamer and the boy delivering it declares that she was Victoria, or her pictures do not resemble her.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS

GOVERNMENT CROP REPORT

WASHINGTON, Sept 10.—The September report of the department of agriculture shows a better yield of spring wheat than was expected a month ago. The improvement is in the northern belt, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Dakota. In Nebraska there has been a decline. In Iowa little change. The general average is [illegible], an increase of four [illegible]. The average yield of the crop as far as the results of threshing are reported exceeds eleven bushels and may reach [illegible] bushels per acre. Winter wheat in Ohio gives promise of a better return than was expected at the harvest and there is some improvement in Missouri and Kansas. In the Middle and Eastern states the percentages of July are not materially changed. In [illegible] the harvest is disappointing and rains have injured the product in shock. Returns indicate an average yield of about [illegible] bushels per acre. The entire wheat product will apparently exceed that of last year by eighty to ninety million bushels. The exact determination of the area harvested and the results of threshing are easily [illegible] a variation of [illegible] per cent.

Corn has declined from 81 per cent in August to [illegible]. The change in the states is as follows: Kentucky from [illegible] in August to [illegible] in September; Ohio [illegible]; Michigan the same in both returns; Indiana [illegible]; Illinois declines from [illegible] to [illegible]; Missouri from [illegible]; Kansas [illegible]; Nebraska [illegible]; Iowa [illegible]. The loss west of Indiana is [illegible] by drought. In the South Atlantic states there has been an improvement and on the gulf coast a slight improvement except in Texas, where a drought has reduced the condition of the present crop.

THE DISPUTE WITH MEXICO

NEW YORK, Sept 10.—A Washington special says: The secretary of state, notwithstanding the release of Cutting, will, it is said, insist upon a repudiation of article [illegible] of the Mexican penal code, which confers upon Mexican courts jurisdiction under certain circumstances over foreigners for offenses committed outside of Mexican territory. [illegible] Bayard will insist upon the renunciation by Mexico of the right to subject American citizens to that code on the ground that American courts have exclusive criminal jurisdiction over offenses committed within the territory of the United States by American citizens.

EL PASO, Sept 10.—Special Envoy Sedgwick arrived at Paso del Norte this morning and after breakfasting with Consul Brigham began an investigation of the [illegible] records in the Cutting case.

[illegible] Col [illegible] Sept 10.—El Paso special: [illegible] Sedgwick has been all day in Paso del Norte in close consultation with Consul Brigham. He has as yet seen nobody, but it is understood that he denies the story set afloat about him. He moved over this evening to the Hotel Vendome in El Paso.

PETITION REFUSED

WASHINGTON, Sept 10.—The acting secretary of the interior department has refused the petition in the case of Hill & Lewis vs. C M Bywater, plaintiffs asking for revocation of the order withholding patent to certain lands in the Olympia district, Washington territory, described as part of the Lydia Maynard donation claim, until suit involving ownership of the land is decided by the United States supreme court.

SEARCHING FOR HIDDEN TREASURE

A Strange Story Told by a Man now under Arrest.

CHICAGO, Sept 10.—A New Orleans special: Dr George J Adams of Massachusetts was arrested here to-day charged with embezzlement by a number of persons whom he defrauded out of money to search for hidden treasures.

Adams claims to have been a practicing physician in Massachusetts. When the war broke out he shouldered his musket and joined Co A Seventeenth Massachusetts volunteers, a portion of the command which came with Butler to New Orleans. [illegible] a foraging expedition three soldiers of the regiment entered a dwelling on Magnolia plantation twenty miles from New Orleans and carried off some $[illegible],000 in gold and silver—$18,500 of it silver, half dollars, $1000 in dollars and the rest in gold.

Being afraid to enter the city with so much money, on reaching a pecan grove about half a mile from the locks at the company canal opposite Greenville or rather the upper end of the exposition grounds they selected a tree prominent for its size and some peculiarities in appearance which made it conspicuous. At the foot of this tree they buried the money and then took bearings, one of the party being a civil engineer. Each of the three men was furnished with a copy of this and the marauders returned to New Orleans, intending to return after the war and recover the money. His two companions were killed and Adams was desperately wounded a year after. Adams was taken to a Southern hospital and left it paralyzed and perfectly helpless.

When he recovered the use of his limbs only a month ago he returned to New Orleans and at once began to search for his treasure. He found to his dismay that all the older pecan trees had been cut down and only the young ones left and was consequently unable to recognize the tree under which the treasure was buried. He devoted himself however for three weeks to digging for it. A few days ago he took several other parties into partnership with him, who advanced a better outfit for surveying land and digging for buried money, but as he has not succeeded in unearthing no treasure, his partners had him arrested to-day.

RAILROAD NOTES

THE WESTERN FREIGHT ASSOCIATION REORGANIZED

CHICAGO, Sept 10.—The Western railway managers after a three days' session succeeded to-day in reaching a basis of compromise and reorganizing the Western Freight association. Two prominent obstacles have been the refusal of the Chicago & Northwestern to pool its range cattle business originating in western Nebraska and Wyoming and the demand of the Missouri Pacific that by reason of its Lincoln, Neb., extension it should be awarded a share of through business. The first was settled by virtually conceding to the Northwestern its point. This was done by removing the western boundary line of the range cattle pool as it formerly existed running north and south through Valentine, Grady Island and Indianola, Neb., to Laramie City and Denver. This gives the Northwestern control of all the cattle shipped on its line west of Norfolk to Fort Fetterman, from which it will exact local rates and not report business to any pool. As both the Union Pacific and the Burlington are building into that territory it will not enjoy the monopoly longer than the present season.

The other bone of contention was amicably divided by giving the Missouri Pacific [illegible] per cent in the pool on through business and awarding the Omaha [illegible] per cent. The Kansas City, St Joseph and Council Bluffs was awarded 6 per cent of the gross earnings in the Council Bluffs local pool. Other percentages remain unchanged.

A committee of one from each road was appointed to perfect minor details of the pool to report to a general meeting at 11 A. M. to-morrow, to which time adjournment was taken. The pool, which will run five years, will go into effect September [illegible] with [illegible] Faulkner as commissioner. This completes one of the most important and far reaching railroad combinations ever made in the West.

WORKING THE NAVY YARDS

A Scheme Whereby the Democrats Hope to Gain Several Congressional Districts

NEW YORK, Sept 10.—Tribune's Washington [illegible]: It is understood that the next two months will be a period of great activity in the navy yards at Portsmouth, Brooklyn, Norfolk and Mare Island. It has been discovered that repairs are necessary to every ship within reach of any of the yards mentioned and that the interests of the government require that repairs shall be completed [illegible] before the middle of November as congressional elections in New Hampshire, New York, Virginia and California will take place on Nov [illegible]. It is hoped that by "working" the navy yards vigorously and judiciously the democrats [illegible] one congressman in Maine, two in New Hampshire, one in Brooklyn, one in Virginia and [illegible] in California. That the administration is in earnest in this matter is shown by the fact that within the last three days requisitions for funds to the amount of more than five millions has been issued for the benefit of the four yards mentioned. It is to be hoped that Secretary Whitney will not forget the provisions of the act approved June 30 [illegible] which prohibits an increase of the force at any navy yard within sixty days next before any election to take place for president of the United States or member of congress, unless the secretary of the navy shall publish certificates that the needs of the public service make an increase necessary at that time.

PORT TOWNSEND, Sept 10.—The steamer Idaho arrived from Alaska to-day two days behind time, having encountered very heavy weather. The Idaho brings more gold dust from Alaska than has ever been brought before at one shipment.

Miners have arrived at Juneau from the Yukon, [illegible] after laying provisions returned at once. No definite news was obtained from them, but they had considerable gold dust with which to pay for provisions. It is thought that the Yukon country is not up to the standard that is represented.

James Ogilvie master and James Blake mate of the English schooner Onward; Hans [illegible] master and H. The crews of the vessels were not arrested. [illegible] was found guilty as charged and sentenced to two months' imprisonment, and [illegible] to [illegible] days.

The United States steamer [illegible] left Sitka Sept [illegible] for [illegible] to bring [illegible] Schwatka's [illegible] party back.

DEATH [illegible]

A [illegible] story comes from the Warm Springs back of Sitka. Mrs Archer of Juneau, Mrs Woodley of Port Townsend and Mrs [illegible] H Brown, wife of the deputy collector at Sitka, accompanied by two [illegible], went to the springs, the two former ladies being afflicted with rheumatism and hoping there to [illegible] their health. Two men left the springs about August [illegible] in the only boat there, promising to send a steam launch for the ladies from Sitka. This they forgot to do. On August 2[illegible] Mrs Brown's infant was taken ill and soon died. The only man left at the springs started across by trail for assistance [illegible] for two days the poor women were left alone with the dead infant. A canoe at length arrived and Indians took the ladies and corpse to Sitka, where they arrived next day. The man who had gone for assistance arrived after them. Mrs Archer was left at the springs, as she was in such a state that it was impossible to move her. A steam launch was at once sent to her relief. Mrs Brown and Mrs Woodley are completely broken down, but it is hoped they will recover. Their [illegible] other lives in this city.

James Ogilvie, master of the schooner Onward, is missing at Sitka. It is thought he skipped to avoid trial. The officers of the other British vessels are out on bail.

CALIFORNIA

A HEAVY FAILURE

[illegible] & Co, fancy dry goods importers, 19 [illegible] street, made an assignment for the benefit of their creditors to-day. Their liabilities are about half a million dollars.

The assets cannot be ascertained. The assignees are M Meyer, George H [illegible], Frederick Arnold Stahl and [illegible] all of this city. The principal creditors are Daniel Meyer, London & California bank, [illegible] Cohn of this city, and others in New York, Cincinnati and Syracuse whose names could not be learned. The firm attribute their failure to the general business depression. The immediate cause of their assignment was the inability to pay a draft for $10,000 presented by [illegible] Cohen. The latter threatened to attach, and to protect the remainder of the creditors the firm made an assignment.

The assets are stated to be nominally the same as the liabilities and consist of stock and $100,000 in book accounts. Half of the liabilities is owing to Eastern firms. NAVAL OFFICERS VERY MAD

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept 10.—The United States revenue cutter Alert, which arrived in port two days ago after a cruise of three years in the China seas, proved a rich find for the customs officials. It is the habit of officers and men on board government vessels detailed to Oriental ports to collect a great many valuable curios, which are surreptitiously brought to this country and kept from the eyes of the inspectors. It is stated that the Alert on her arrival here from China three years ago did not pass under the inspection of the customs officers and on going to Vallejo unloaded a valuable lot of curios. This time the officials were prepared for the vessel, and as soon as she dropped anchor Deputy Surveyor [illegible] and two inspectors boarded her. They were received with open arms until their business was made known, when the atmosphere of the cabin grew suddenly chilly. The commander was taken ashore, where he was shown the law prohibiting the landing of his treasures without paying the regular duty, and yesterday the appraiser overhauled the vessel with the result that the officers and men will contribute over $[illegible]00 of their hard earned money to the customs department. They are mad.

Prof W. S. Walker has recently made a careful chemical analysis of the mineral from which Mr Renton makes his polish, and in regard to which THE OREGONIAN recently printed an article from the New York Sun. Prof. Walker says that he found it a species of sepiolite, showing some variation, [illegible] to a chemical admixture of [illegible]. This mineral would be aphrodite, the only difference between it and meerschaum being the uncertainty of the quantity of water in it, and hence it may be termed a coarse, impure variety of meerschaum. Mr Renton has made some very interesting experiments with the article. Placed with a hemp press it easily becomes solid and may be carved or cut in any shape. Place it in water it will quickly dissolve, but may be boiled in [illegible] day without injury.

Above all other cathartic pills
I hate the big old fashioned pills
By slow degrees they downward wend
And often pause or upward tend,
With such discomfort are they fraught
Their good effects amount to naught.
Now Dr Pierce prepares a pill
That exactly fills the bill—
A Pellet rather that is all—
A Pleasant Purgative and small
Just try them as you feel their need
You'll find that I speak truth, indeed

It is well known that the inhabitants of many Eastern nations protect themselves against infections of orders by wearing Aromatic Gums on the pit of the stomach. Their instincts are right, for strong, permanent odors are antagonistic to the living germs which cause disease. For this reason Allcock's Porous Plasters, being composed of fragrant aromatic gums, are the best safeguard to wear on the pit of the stomach in cholera time, or in localities where sewer gas and malaria are found. They not only prevent infection, but will cure diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera, and bowel complaints.

PORTLAND SATURDAY, SEPT 11, 1886.

"ANTI SALOON CONFERENCE."

Circulars have been sent to all parts of the country, calling upon republicans "who are opposed to the saloon" to send delegates to "a conference" to be held at Chicago on the 16th September. The "chairman of the organizing committee," Mr. Albert Griffin of Manhattan, Kansas, states that the object of the conference is to press upon the republican party the adoption of a definite line of policy, looking to the destruction or the greatest possible diminution of dramselling and the evils resulting therefrom, and the engrafting of this policy on present and future party platforms. The party is not asked, however, to indorse prohibition at this conference, or any other specific measure, or to abandon any of its distinctive principles. The call declares that the loss of either the "prohibition" or "restriction" wing of the republican party would amount to its destruction, and its destruction would insure the triumph of the saloon for an indefinite period. Therefore, pursues the call, it is essential to the welfare both of the temperance cause and of the republican party that "common ground" shall be found, upon which all opponents of the grogshop can stand. Such common ground would be an authoritative recognition by the party of the fact that the saloon is a terrible evil, having no redeeming feature, and because of this fact, it should be and shall be treated as an enemy of society. How to make this declaration effective would be left to the judgment of the party in the several states; that is, if a majority of the people were willing to sustain prohibition in any state, let prohibition be adopted therein as a principle or purpose of the party; but if restrictive measures, including high taxation, seem to other states to be the measures that will produce the best attainable results, let declarations to that effect be firmly made.

We believe it is going to be impossible to arrest the disintegration of the republican party on the liquor question. Most of those who have committed themselves to prohibition will accept nothing less than prohibition, and will continue their efforts for it, even though there is absolutely no prospect of getting it. For this is a matter upon which many men will act from sentimental ideas and not from sober judgment. Already the prohibitionists have beaten the republican party in a national election—beaten it by their withdrawal from it in the face of pressure to stay far exceeding that which can ever be exerted again. Therefore, what they have done once already they may be expected to do again and again and in increasing numbers.

As a state or local question prohibition is destined, beyond doubt, to a large degree of success; but as a national question it is impracticable, because the states that control the political destinies of the country can't be carried for prohibition. States in which the rural population largely predominates will vote for prohibition and will enforce it with varying degrees of success, but states that contain great cities and many large towns, having a majority of what may be called urban population, will certainly reject prohibition, and with it will reject the party that pronounces for it. New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Illinois will always refuse prohibition; and what can the republican party do without these states? To them with probability may be added Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin, and certainly California. To press prohibition in those states will be simply to give them to and keep them in the hands of the democratic party. In the Southern states there is a strong prohibition sentiment, but it will never assert itself as a factor in national politics. Those states will adhere to the democratic party for an indefinite period, upon the memories of the rebellion; and besides the solid South, the democratic party will prevail in a sufficient number of the great Northern states, in consequence of the withdrawal of the prohibitionists from the republican ranks. This will simply keep in power the party most favorable to the liquor trade, and it is a clear and safe prediction that this will be the course of our politics for the next ten or twenty years. It will wear out at last, for men at last must recognize the necessary limitations of an effort or purpose, and consent to discrimination between what is practicable and what is not. But it will hold on a long time, and during this long time it will keep in power the party least favorable to placing restrictions upon the business that the prohibitionists vainly try to destroy.

There seems to be no possibility of securing co-operation between the prohibitionists who have organized a separate party and the vastly greater number of people who, while admitting the evils of the liquor traffic, do not regard prohibition in all cases as a practicable method of dealing with them, and certainly do not think it possible to effect anything by pushing prohibition as an issue of national politics. As there can be no reconcilement on this point, the anti-saloon conference at Chicago will result in nothing. Things must take their course and work out of themselves.

EDMUNDS

The returns from the Vermont election assure the return of George F. Edmunds to the United States senate from Vermont by the state legislature, which meets the [illegible] of October next. Edmunds's refusal to speak for Blaine in 1884 so strongly [illegible] republicans of Vermont that had the re[illegible] fallen to the legislature of 1884 he would have been defeated, but the Vermonters have had a long cooling time, and as Vermont is nothing but a republican pocket borough, it was an easy matter to carry it for his friends against his only competitor, Ex-Gov. Smith, who [illegible] of superior ability, but [illegible] popularity as a railroad [illegible] the railroads of the state and [illegible] salvage [illegible] and [illegible] monopolist was [illegible] this feeling, [illegible] lawyer [illegible] to swallow Edmunds [illegible] confess. The leading [illegible] of Vermont stimulated [illegible] Edmunds, and this fact helped him greatly [illegible] iron-clad, moss-backed republicans.

What sort of man is Edmunds? He is a man of remarkable [illegible] and remarkable intellectual limitations. He is not a great man in any sense of the word, but he is a learned, industrious and acute lawyer. His perceptive faculties are so remarkably developed that had he any breadth of understanding and a particle of imagination he would be a statesman of first rank; but he is a man of very sharp yet very narrow vision. He has legal learning, legal acumen, but is so intensely technical and narrow in his range that with all his legal learning and acuteness he pleads often like a pettifogger in court, and is a one-eyed partisan in politics. He is the incarnation of cold pickle in taste and temper. He is a lineal descendant of the Puritan who objected to bear baiting, not because he cared a button for the poor bear, but because he took a malignant delight in spoiling the pleasure of the people. Edmunds will object to the passage of a perfectly innocent measure in the senate out of the pure constitutional pleasure he takes in making somebody else miserable; and yet if he has any personal selfish interest in the passage of a measure he will work like a hero for its success. Years ago he used to posture as the senatorial Jack, who yearned to kill all the giants of the railroad lobby, but after honest old Thurman left the senate Edmunds ceased to be the bulldog of the treasury, he has since fawned upon the begging Lazarus of the corporation lobby and sympathetically licked his sores, except when the other dog, Senator Mitchell of Oregon, was present, who kindly acted as the first relief from this ignominious duty.

Personally Senator Edmunds is a man without friends, though not without admirers, in his own state, and he is intensely unpopular in his own town, because he is notorious as a man so avaricious that he twice allowed himself to be doubled by the listers for failure to put in his tax list, and always pays his city assessments for sidewalks and kindred improvements only under threat of legal prosecution for payment. This fact would have hurt him in the recent election only that his competitor was notorious for the same miserable lack of public integrity and public spirit. If Judge Veazey of the supreme court, an able lawyer and a splendid soldier, a citizen of universal popularity, who wore in his nose the ring of neither the Edmunds nor the Smith hog yard, could have been persuaded to contest Edmunds's election the latter would have been beaten, but the anti-Edmunds forces were divided by the bitter railroad fight of the last ten years, so men have reluctantly voted for Edmunds, not because they loved him, but because they hated and feared him less than they did ex-Gov. Smith.

But Edmunds has seen his best days. He will not be 59 years old until next February, but he looks like a man rising 70. Despite the fact that he represents a prohibition state his habits, both in food and drink, are not favorable to longevity, and his stupid course during the last session of congress inspires the belief that his brains are not as bright as they were ten years ago. President Cleveland is not a man of agile intellect, but he proved himself more than a match for Edmunds in his fight. Edmunds's action on the oleomargarine bill was that of a constitutional lawyer playing petty shyster and throwing a bone to the howling pack of Vermont dairymen, while his letter to the anti-alcohol Abigail of the Vermont "Women's Temperance Union," hypocritically declaring that his constitutional infirmities obliged him to drink rum, was the act of a very cheap man. Edmunds's argument for the oleomargarine bill was completely exploded by Beck, when he said that "breeders of horses would have the right of government protection against the breeding of mules, and persons in the coal-mining industry against persons in the natural gas industry."

Edmunds will be re-elected, but he will win no more glory in the field of the senate. His powers of mind and body are fast fading out; the country has come to recognize him as the most intellectual legal tool of the railroad lobby ring. He was the lion of the railway lobby's Lucerne at the last session of congress, and Mitchell of Oregon was the jackal, the lion's provider.

Edmunds has served continuously in the senate since April 3, 1866, when he took his seat as the appointed successor of Senator Solomon Foot, deceased. He will deliver the annual address at the Vermont state fair. Mr. Blaine was invited first, but declined. Edmunds, serving as second choice to Blaine, recalls the remark of Sexton, the Irish homeruler, that some men played second fiddle ably when their own Rome was burning.

For the state fair, which opens at Salem on Monday, there is every promise of success. The weather probabilities are favorable, and we are assured that the attractions will be many. The races, always the popular feature of the fair, promise to be exceptionally good. Upwards of a hundred horses, among them all the "cracks" in the state, are in training at the grounds. Times are easier in the valley this fall than for several years back, and this fact is suggestive of a large attendance.

The total amount expended on the new High school building to date is $125,597 85. A balance of $588 97 is still due C. R. DeBurg on his contract and there is due the architect, Wm. Stokes, a balance of $400. Besides these, there are other claims before the board aggregating $600. Taxpayers will remember that it was promised that the building and its equipment would cost under $40,000. However, this is about the usual variation as between estimate and actual cost.

It seems that Geronimo is not to be turned over to the courts of Arizona, which is to be regretted. It is suggested that he be tried by a commission. We would add another suggestion that the members of the jury which decided the anarchist cases at Chicago be constituted a commission for this purpose with final and complete authority.

The annual tournament of the Oregon Firemen's association, composed of the volunteer departments throughout the state, has just ended at Salem. It was as usual an occasion of much interest. These competitions, besides affording an enjoyable holiday, had an excellent effect in keeping up the spirit and discipline of the fire boys.

Mr. Frederick Billings, one of the very large stockholders of the Northern Pacific, will arrive in this city to-day from the East.

COSTLY WATER SUPPLY

Some Facts and Calculations for Taxpayers

PORTLAND, Sept 10

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN.

I notice in yesterday's issue of THE OREGONIAN that "Observer" informs the people that the cost of supplying water to ten cities each, under city waterworks and under private corporations, is respectively, for each 1000 population under city, $2081 and under private corporations $1600. Now Portland contains 30,000 population, exclusive of East Portland. Therefore upon the basis of other private corporations what ought to be paid by our population for water. It is easy to calculate for, say 30,000 at $1600 for each thousand would amount to $49,800. Whereas in a recent communication Mr. Leonard states that in 1885 their company collected—

For water furnished	$105 481
Amount paid by city	5 000
Amount paid by merchants [illegible] to supply elevators, say as much more	000
Total	$ [illegible]481

Or in other words, our people are paying over $4000 for every 1000 population under private corporations, whereas in other places they only pay $1600. No wonder the people want the city to build waterworks. There are we presume 5000 subscribers paying water rent in Portland who pay an average of about $21 a year, whereas if we were furnished water by the city even at the highest rate [illegible] of $4 [illegible] we would get our water for about $12 a year [illegible] average. The statement of Observer only goes to show how much more exorbitant are the rates of the Portland waterworks than [illegible] water corporations in other cities.

REPORTS

Director Dodd reported that the various school buildings of the district had been repainted and placed in first-class repair also that attention had been paid to the vaults and sewers particularly those of the Harrison-street school which required special attention. The report was adopted

The question was brought up as to the right of an American sea captain whose vessel is in port and intends to lay here some months sending his children to the Portland public schools.

Director Durham claimed he couldn't send his children to school here without paying for it, unless this was the home port of the vessel and the residence of its commander

It was moved and carried that the children be admitted on payment of tuition

A Drew was elected assistant janitor of the High school at a salary of $[illegible] per month Adjourned

ADDITIONAL RESOLUTION

The following resolution introduced in the republican convention at Tacoma by Mr Paul Strobach was adopted unanimously and incorporated in the platform. By some oversight it was omitted from the resolutions as heretofore published

We believe in a free ballot and a fair count that we deem the sacred mission of the republican party not its aim accomplished until the humblest citizen of this country shall have the right to vote as he pleases, and to have his vote counted as he casts it

SUCCESSFUL HUNTERS—A party, consisting of Capt T C Baker and Charles Reed of Corvallis, Taylor and William Miller, of King's Valley Prof D Rodgers of Albany and H W Prettyman of Mount Tabor started from Corvallis on a hunt a little over two weeks ago each riding his own horse and taking three pack horses with them to carry their provisions The place selected for the hunt was on the mountains between Yaquina bay and Tillamook bay and is called by the name of "Paradise Lost" They were out just ten days from the time they left Corvallis and succeeded in killing seven fine elk which they skinned and dressed and then dried the meat which weighed 860 pounds They then packed the meat and hides on the nine horses and made the homeward journey on foot The largest of the seven elk measured from the tip of the nose to the end of the tail just twelve feet four inches, and from the bottom of his fore feet to the top of the shoulder six feet four inches Mr Prettyman states that the party might have killed many more if they desired but they would not do it as they could pack no more Mr Prettyman brought with him a pair of antlers taken from one of the elk which competent judges say are as fine as ever seen on this coast

OLD DIRECTORIES AND THEIR USES—Bishop Morris informs us that through the agency of THE OREGONIAN and the kindness of its readers, his set of city directories for the library of the Bishop Scott Grammar school is now complete from 18[illegible] to the present year This had hardly been done when a clergyman applied to the bishop to know the date of the opening of the first St Stephen's chapel at the corner of Fourth and Madison No mention whatever of this event was found in the journals of convocation nor in Bishop Scott's reports but on referring to the directory for 18[illegible] the desired information was found in the following note under the head of "Churches St Stephen's chapel Protestant Episcopal church located corner of Madison and Fourth streets was opened November [illegible] 18[illegible]3 by the Rt Rev Bishop Scott Services held each Sunday" This is but an illustration of the usefulness of such records which in many cases become more interesting and valuable with every added year

NARROW ESCAPE—As Alex Hamilton of Centralia was walking along the railroad about a mile north of Seatco a few evenings since his attention was attracted by some pheasants in the top of the bushes near the road He fired a shot at them from a small pistol and was surprised and alarmed to hear some one shouting to him from the hillside above, some eighty yards distant It proved to be an old man named Bently who lives two miles south of the place, who was hunting for his cow and who had been struck a glancing blow on the right temple by the bullet, cutting a gash three quarters of an inch long The injury was so slight that he secured his cow and drove her home accompanied by Mr Hamilton Mr Bently attaches no blame to Mr Hamilton as he is confident the shooting was purely accidental as no one would dream of any one being in such a place at that time

JOCKEYING AMONG FOOTRACERS—There was a very exciting incident at the firemen's foot race at Salem yesterday afternoon Rea took the lead from the start, closely pressed by Martin the Yamhill county sprinter Martin kept shoving and edging Rea and finally elbowed him into the ropes This slacked the speed of both men and Ferguson of Astoria passed them both coming in first in 10¼ seconds Rea immediately went for Martin intending to thrash him as he deserved and half a dozen others joined Rea, angry enough to tear Martin limb from limb, draw and quarter him and then immerse him in boiling oil Officers interfered and succeeded in rescuing Martin from the aroused populace The association put a permanent "kibosh" on Martin and the judges awarded Rea the race.

COUNTY POOR FARM—The annual report of Superintendent McBride, of the poor farm, was filed yesterday with the county commissioners It showed that the total expenditures for the year were $4716 48. Of this the following was paid out as salaries Teamster $[illegible] farm hand $110 50 steward $[illegible]42 cook $285 0[illegible], physician $[illegible] Superintendent McBride $890 06 total $23[illegible] 02. Farm produce sold consisting of wood, hay potatoes calves, etc $[illegible] 61 reducing the net expenses of the year to $[illegible] and exclusive of $23[illegible] 02 salaries to $[illegible] 83 There was 12 24 days board furnished to inmates Average number of inmates 33 200-365 Average expense of each inmate per week $[illegible]

EXPENSIVE DRIVE—Thursday in Justice Tuttle's court the case of B B Acker vs August Storge, to recover $[illegible]50 damages for misusing a horse was tried before a jury Some time ago Storge hired a horse from Acker and his partner used it to take a friend out to see some land at Forest Grove On the return trip Storge's partner claims the horse for some reason wouldn't go and he had to whip it some to make it go Acker claims the horse was so hurt that he hasn't been able to use it since, and as Storge engaged the animal, he held him responsible for its usage The jury found for Acker in the sum of $100 and costs Report is that the defendant will appeal the case

FOREIGN EGGS IN MARKET—A shipment of Iowa eggs the first of the season was received here yesterday The importer makes calculation on Oregon hens taking a vacation from now to Christmas But he expects them to be up and dressed and attending to business all through January February and March He sold a great many eggs here last year but was literally snowed under after the new year Our hens will have to brace up and work at laying in relays so to speak and try and cover the entire year Or better still they must learn to lay without ceasing for this business of importing eggs must be stopped

COMPLIMENTARY—The following, concerning the La Camas circuit is from a communication to the Pacific Christian Advocate by Rev J F Devore "La Camas the town that gives name to the circuit is a beautiful village, on the north bank of the Columbia river and twenty miles from Portland We find here the paper mill a structure that cost over $100 000 Here is also a railroad reaching out into the country, called the La Camas and Tacoma road Here the temperance party triumphed at the late election and here the saloons are closed out which speaks well for the inhabitants of this rising village"

A REAL PIONEER.—George Ross the old man who was found dead Thursday in his cabin near Albina, was buried at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Catholic cemetery the expenses being defrayed by the friends of the deceased No inquest was held as investigation proved conclusively that Ross's death was the result of natural causes Ross was 68 years of age and a native of Wales. He was an old pioneer here and cleared all the land from the East Portland line to the Multnomah precinct line He leaves a sister in Wales and a brother who is a physician in New Orleans

INDIAN SHOT—French Joe a watchman in the employ of the Oregon Pacific railroad company shot an Indian known as Jack Ross at Yaquina on the evening of the [illegible]th inst The parties had some trouble and the Indian threatened an attack but finally went away and returned shortly with two companions and a club and began hostile demonstrations when Joe drew a pistol and shot him through the abdomen He died during the night and was carried away by his companions next morning At latest accounts no arrests had been made

TAYLOR STREET M E CHURCH—Rev Dr Roberts so well and so favorably known in connection with the history of Methodism on the Pacific coast will to morrow fill the pulpit of the Taylor street church morning and evening Very many people in Portland and vicinity will be glad of this opportunity to again listen to and greet the man whose work stands out so prominently in all the changes that have taken place in the transition from a wilderness to the high state of civilization that now exists upon the western border

BOAT RUN OVER—Yesterday a fishing boat containing James Lidwell Mike Meara and Aleck Mickerson and some provisions and supplies on the way to Tansy point, was run over by the scow Annie and sunk The men fortunately, got hold of the bow of the scow and were rescued without injury except to Mike Meara, who was struck in the face by the scow and received a severe cut The boat minus all its contents except the anchor was afterwards picked up by the scow—Astorian

FAREWELL PERFORMANCES—Another crowded house greeted Mr Crismer and Miss Davis in "The Field of Honor" last evening, at the New Market theater and the play was received with great applause To-day for the farewell appearance of this company "A Hoop of Gold" will be repeated at both matinee and evening performances The company start East to-morrow playing in Dayton Monday Walla Walla Tuesday and Wednesday and then over the Northern Pacific to St Paul

NEW DENTISTRY PARLORS.—Dr T I Nicklin dentist, has just opened an office in the block on the southeast corner First and Morrison streets (the rooms formerly occupied by Dr Josephi) which for neatness and taste in the furnishing cannot be equaled on the coast The operating room too is fitted up with the very best appliances in this line known to modern science

BASEBALL.—The Stars and Portlands play at the Oaks to-morrow afternoon The season will most likely close with this series, as this will probably be the last good spell of weather we shall have for some time

BLOWING OUT A PIER

In the process of removing the old piers made for the first proposed Morrison street bridge a cluster of about a dozen piles was found six feet below the water about 100 yards from the east shore In order to remove them it was determined to use giant powder and several Portland gentlemen were invited to come over to the barge Cascades and see the effect. Among the number was a representative of THE OREGONIAN The party were met at 2 o clock at the foot of Washington street by a boatman who remarked that it was biling hot As the party boarded the barge Cascades the workmen, with the aid of the donkey engine and the huge hawsers and chains and blocks were pulling out a pile which stuck fast in the river bottom and was surrounded with stone The pile stuck fast and the chain slipped, but a new hitch was taken and after some steady hard pulling the bubbles showed something was moving and soon the pile was seen to be slowly but surely rising After it had started it came comparatively easy The next operation was the exploding of the giant powder to remove the piles above mentioned The barge was moved about fifty feet from the piling and Capt Spencer brought out a big round tin can which would hold about two and a half gallons. This can contained eight sticks of giant powder, and through a little hole in the top ran two small copper wires which were connected inside with a percussion cap. The can was received by a man in a row boat. He handled it very carefully, as he might a tender infant. A small stick of lumber marked the place to sink the can, but it would not go down One of the visitors suggested the boatman go down and hold it, but the matter was settled by tying a stone on the can The small wires were then connected with larger ones insulated with gutta percha leading to the barge The boatmen rowed away and the men on the pile driver stopped work to see the explosion All being ready Mr Campbell the engineer asked if any of the visitors wished to work the exploder and as they declined he remarked he would rather do it than sink the can In less than three seconds he had pulled up and pushed down the handle of the little machine that generated the electricity and immediately a volume of water about twenty feet in diameter at the base shot up into the air like a huge cone and at the very top about fifty feet high was the little stick of lumber that had marked the resting place of the can of powder The water settled back immediately and nothing was left but floating piles, debris and muddy water A few fish were seen to rise a moment later the shock having killed them instantly The piles were completely demolished

CUBA

A Characteristic Canard of Irresponsible Journalism Published Yesterday

A sensational dispatch, alleged to have been sent from Atlanta Georgia was printed yesterday morning in the bogus journal to the effect that the whole island of Cuba, which contains [illegible] square miles and over a million and a half inhabitants had entirely disappeared—been swallowed up in the ocean The captains of three steamers arriving at Savannah it was said stated that they failed to find a single trace of the great island

Even a wholly irresponsible and characterless journal would scarcely have published a story so plainly a canard had not the shadow of such a possibility existed from the fact of the recent severe earthquake on the south Atlantic coast of this country It is a fact that somebody read it in the aforesaid paper for by noon it had been read about pretty well by word of mouth among the wholesale merchants and business men Having read their OREGONIAN and having found nothing about it there the matter was dismissed from thought except to speak of it as quite characteristic of the bogus paper and so called "news service" Merchants who gave it further thought remembered that a telegraph cable connects Cuba with the United States and that if there had been any such disaster as stated cable communication would at least have been broken to say nothing of the vast tidal wave that must have followed and the miles and miles of wreckage that would have been strewn broadcast over sea and shore It would hardly have been necessary to wait for the arrival of three ships to get news

The telegraph operators of this city made much sport over the startling news During the intervals of business they would call up various offices and ask them for particulars of the destruction of Cuba Following are some of the answers received

SAN FRANCISCO Sept 10 —Report about Cuba not yet reached us

OGDEN Sept 10 —Some polygamists disappeared lately Haven't heard about Cuba's going with them

SACRAMENTO Sept 10 —Island of Cuba not in my tariff book

WALLULA Sept 10 —When did Jim Waters move his saloon up there

LOS ANGELES Sept 10 —Cuba still here

CHICAGO Sept 10 —No trouble with Cuba New York working O K with Havana Would you like to order some cigars

THE FIREMEN.

Conclusion of the Contests—The Next Tournament to be Held at Vancouver

SALEM, Sept. 10.

The letter of yesterday closed with the contests at noon, when an hour's intermission was allowed for dinner. At 1 o'clock P. M. the wet test race was called. In this twelve men are allowed on the ropes, run 300 yards to hydrant, attach and lay 300 feet of hose, break coupling and attach nozzle, time to be called when water leaves the pipe. The prize was a special purse of $100, offered by W. F. Bowers, of Portland, manager of the Gutta Percha and Rubber Manufacturing company. The water pressure was but forty-five pounds and the time necessarily slow, as in nearly every instance the teams were compelled to wait from four to six seconds for water after attaching pipe, and no harness was allowed the runners in any team. The time was as follows: Rescue hose company No. 2, Astoria, 51¼ seconds; Capital hose company No. 2 of Salem, 53¾ seconds; Lebanon hose company No. 1 of Lebanon, 55¾ seconds; Tiger hose company No. 2 of Salem, 61½; Eugene hose company No. 1 of Eugene City, 60 seconds. Thus while the Rescues of Astoria lost their championship steamer race, which was won yesterday by the Tigers of this city, they captured from the Capitals their favorite race and honors thus rested easy. The Capital hose team are in poor trim this year, several of the members being scarcely able to appear on the streets from malarial troubles, and all things considered the team made excellent time.

The [illegible] interest than did the hose races. [illegible] of Astoria set up a rattling [illegible] yards with cart carrying [illegible] in [illegible] seconds. Capitals [illegible] of Salem [illegible] seconds, this being their first appearance on the track. [illegible] No. [illegible] of Salem [illegible] time being [illegible] seconds. The [illegible] stance was certainly creditable. [illegible] the tournament [illegible] the day.

Vice President, [illegible], Walla Walla.

Secretary [illegible] Frank F. Hodgkin, Salem.

Directors, F. B. [illegible], Salem; [illegible] Webber, Albany; George [illegible] and Astoria.

The next association [illegible] tournament will be held at Vancouver, W. T., commencing the third Wednesday in June 1887.

A resolution was adopted requesting and urging upon companies and departments belonging to the association to give an entertainment during the year for the benefit of the state tournament fund, the net proceeds to be donated to the department where the tournament is held for prizes to be contested for by companies belonging to the association.

TO-DAY'S CONTESTS.

State Association Champion Hose Race—Open to all wet run, distance 300 yards to hydrant, lay 350 feet of hose, disconnect the last or seventh section, take out the third section from hydrant and replace with last or seventh section and connect the section removed to the sixth section, attach pipe and throw water. Time to be called when the water leaves the pipe. First prize $250; second prize $100.

FIREMEN'S FOOT RACE.

One hundred and fifty yards; entries, Edward Rea, Astoria; Wm. Martin, Salem; [illegible] Fallon, Salem; Ed. Ferguson, Astoria; and Ed. Long, Salem. Won by Edward Rea, notwithstanding an effort made by Martin to cut Rea off, for which piece of skulduggery Martin was by the judges forever debarred from entering any contest given under the auspices of the firemen's association of Oregon. Great excitement prevailed for a few moments, but the prompt decision of the judges allayed all hard feelings, and everybody was satisfied with the result. Time 16¼ seconds.

THE COURTS.

STATE CIRCUIT COURT.

State vs. Ah Sing; time to enter plea continued one day.

State vs. Wm. Bray, larceny; plea of not guilty and set for trial by jury September 15.

Ah Dso pleaded guilty to the larceny of a box of cigars from the store of Sealy, Mason & Co., and will be sentenced to-day. He denies stealing a watch and chain from F. Barr, but has not as yet interposed his plea to the indictment.

THE EAST SIDE.

[illegible]

About 5 o'clock last evening smoke was seen issuing from underneath the outhouses in the rear of the Logus block, corner of I and Fourth streets. Mr. John O'Brien and others ran to the spot and found a pile of waste paper and dry rubbish making quite a blaze. A hose was procured and a stream of water soon put the fire out. It is thought some boys who had been playing down there had thrown a lighted cigarette in among the rubbish.

WHATCOM NOTES

WHATCOM, W. T., Sept. [illegible]

A [illegible] the white population of this county—men, women and children—have gone to the hop fields of Puyallup and White river. The steamer [illegible] took away 120 at one trip.

The Bennett & Mackay telegraph system of messages via the Canadian Pacific railroad is now being constructed in the direction of Portland and San Francisco. The contract for poles for a portion of the line through our county was let yesterday.

Twenty-five pounds of granulated sugar for $1 in England. Here we can only get ten to twelve [illegible]. And should we have a higher protective tariff upon sugar, as Mr. Meeker urges, for the benefit of one beet root sugar factory on Puget Sound, established, if at all, by wealthy capitalists who can afford to take their chances in it without being protected at the expense of the public at large, can he promise that we could get more than eight pounds for a dollar.

The Washington Monument Slowly Sinking

Dispatch in Chicago Journal.

Mr. Green, Colonel Casey's assistant in charge of the Washington monument, has been making scientific observations of the structure or, in a technical phrase, "leveling it" to-day with a view to noting any change of position. This procedure is undertaken on the first day of every month, but that of to-day has attracted more than usual attention because of the desire to know whether the earthquake affected the structure. The observation proves that the shaking had not the slightest effect upon the monument. In fact the usual tendency of the structure toward the center of the earth seems to have been arrested or rather reversed, since the last observation, as the position as compared with that of one month ago is to-day one two-thousandth part of a foot higher. In measuring such almost minute distances instruments of the utmost precision give varying results, and the real changes of position can only be determined by taking the general average of a series of observations. These show a downward progress at the rate of about one thousandth part of a foot each month. Sometimes the observations show an apparent settling of about twice that distance, but in such cases the observation a month later will usually denote a cessation or an apparent reversal of the movement, as was the case to-day. The total downward movement of the structure during the last few years, including that which occurred during the laying of the new foundation, is about four inches.

SWEETHEART, FAREWELL

Beneath the whispering trees we lingered late,
Hand clasped in hand, my dearest love and I,
And he spake words I never can forget
Of tender trust and love, until I die.
And with his eyes what lips would fail to tell
He [illegible] what time he said, "Sweetheart, farewell."

With sweet caress he clasped me to his breast,
And looked upon me as with angel eyes,
And kissed my brow and kissed my lips and kissed.
The tears away that now began to rise,
And ever he [illegible] tale of love would tell
What time he sadly spoke, "Sweetheart, farewell."

And so he went away, and I am weary
Of future's smiles—my heart is full of strife,
The long, long days without him are so dreary,
And all the bright has faded out of life.
Come back, my love, the old sweet tale to tell,
[illegible] never more to say "Sweetheart, farewell."
